HAS BEEN REQUESTED TO APPOINT A MIDSHIPMAN

Good Chance for Some Young Man Between the Age of 16 and 20 to Enter Military School at Annapolis

William Kent, Congressman, Second Congressional District, has received a notification from the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department that a vacancy exists for midshipman at Annapolis, and he has been requested to make an appointment. Contrary to the usual custom, Mr. Kent has desired to throw the place open to all the young men residing in the Second District who desire to compete for the examination. He is making arrangements to hold an examination upon the subjects required for entrance into the Academy and will appoint the one passing the best examination. Candidates must be of good moral character, physically sound, well formed, and of robust constitution. They will be examined mentally in punctuation, spelling, arithmetic, geography, and English grammar, United States History, world's history, algerba through quadratic equasions, and plain geometry (5 books of Chauvenet's geometry or an equivalent). Deficiency in any one of these subjects may be sufficient to insure the rejection of the candidate. The examiation will be held some time in April. Any young man residing in the Second Congressional District, between the ages of 16 and 20 years who desires to compete for the appointment should write to Rev. Ernest Bradley, Kentfield, California.

Here is your chance boys.

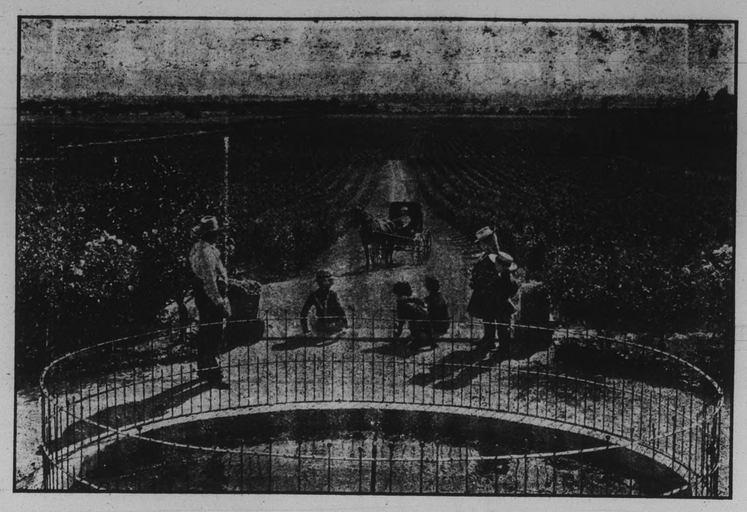
COUNTY NEWS ITEMS

The Russian River Light and Power company have extended their wires to Monte Cristo, Monte Rio and Mesa Grande, and are now ready to furnish electric lights at these places. The wires are at present being extended to Occidental and Camp Meeker, and have abont reached those places. Within a short time work will be commenced extending the lines to Duncan's Mills. This will give many summer resorts in that section the advantage of the modern luminant. Chas. Kornel is manager of the lighting company.

Preparations are being made by I N. Cable, manager of the Sebastopol Berry Growers' Association, to handle the biggest berry crop inthe history of the company. The association's warehouse is being enlarged and a shed is being built to cover the platform on which the berries are deposited when brought to the association. Thousands of berry crates are being built inside the warehouse.

Stella Filippini, a twelve-year-old girl, suffered a peculiar and painful accident at the exposition in Dreamland Rink, Petaluma, Tuesday afternoon. She was walking along the gallery with her hand on the wire railing, when a ring on one of her fingers was caught on a loose srand projecting from the wire. Her finger was almost severed. She was hurried to the office of a physician, who dressed the injury.

SONOMA VALLEY HAS SOME FINE VINEYARDS



A View of One of Sonoma's Largest Vineyards

The vineyard industry is one of the oldest in Sonoma Valley and much of the valuable acerage is covered with bearing vines of the highest types. The Gundlachs and Dresels are among the most prominent viticulturists and their wines have brought fame and honor to the valley The peculiar foundation of the soil, which is of volcanic origin, is admirably adopted to grape growing and vintage time in Sonoma is richly picturesque when the lucious grapes are being hauled to the wineries, to be pressed and fermented into the delicate riestings and zinfandels for which the valley is famous.

It was in the early sixties, when Sonoma Valley sprang into prominence as the prospective Rhinewine and Champagne district of our State. Under the leadership of Agoston Haraszthy (the father of the once popular champagne manufacturer, Arpad Haraszthy) the Buena Vista Viticultural Society was organized and devoted its energy to produce a very acceptable champagne under the natural French process.

The broad expanse from the bay line to the foothills on both sides, running northward through the beautiful valley, passing Glen Ellen to Guiliocos Valley into the immediate neighborhood of Santa Rosa was then covered with prolific vineyards. Sonoma Valley formed the nucleus and the center of the dry wine production of the State and the unquestioned merit and superiority of its products have made the Sonoma Valley famous ever since.

NEW CENSUS LAW

The following letter has been mailed all over the State by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Edward Hyatt:

"To Superintendents and Other School Officers: This is to notify you that the Benedict bill abolishing the school census and basing apportionments upon average daily attendance instead of census children was passed by the legislature March 25th and will become effective March 31st. Therefore no school census will be taken this year, no census marshals will need to be appointed and no census blanks will need to be distributed.

"It is worth noting that this new law will make the average daily attendance a matter of supreme importance to every school, since the next year's funds are based entirely upon it It seems to be just and fair to give a school its money according to the actual children it educates rather than upon those who happen to be dwelling within the district. The census has been costing the State about sixty thousand dollars per year. Doubless the new law will not fit all cases or work equitably in every instance, but we must all do the best we can with it and try to gain the information necessary to perfect it and equalize it two years hence, when the legislature meets again."

ON THE COST OF LIVING

A Harvard medical man declares that the average man can live on ten cents a day. Exist, proffessor (we correct.) One can keep body and soul together on a few pennies a day, but the useful citizen requires more leavening to make him a sturdy factor of the body politic.

There is no question but that we all have developed highly diversified appetites since the day of our forefathers who thrived on simpler fare but no thing is as simple as it used to be and cornmeal which was in early times thought to be most healthful is now declared by some food experts to encourage hook-worm. Popular pie which the men folks never will forsake, was formerly the dessert par excellence, but one must now eat the fruit without the crust, ice cream, wine jellies or floating island. Soup is healthful though not as cheap as formerly, for although water has not gone up, the housewifes time is more valuable while the riotous fumes of oxtail, vegetable, noodle, pea and rice tomato are not fitted to the atmosphere of the average apartment house of our cities, where one may broil but not stew according to the accepted code. Canned soups they may have and many do, to be followed up by a dash of this and that from the delicatessen.

The frequency of ptomaine poisoning due to the criminal carelessness in manufacture and the lack of caution on the part of the consumer, has led to many enactments such as the pure food laws and while protecting people in one way it is quite likely that the government inspection etc., is used by producers as an excuse to double their prices.

The solution of the cost of living problem must be solved by each family and it can be done by the intelligent housewife but it is more of a study than formerly and therefore an art when one has mastered it.

With the approach of summer it is good to know that there has been an honest and humanitarian interest in safe-guarding the visitors to the Russian river, which every season is the scene of sad drownings. The merry hearted vacationers are plunged into gloom almost every year by the untimely death of some fellow swimmer, whom the innocent looking waters of our beautiful stream lures to destruction. The river is misleadings as to depths and currents and those who would be cautious in tanks and surf have little thoughts of danger here. That caution may be always uppermost in their minds the legislature has been asked to pass a law, whereby warning signs will have to be posted along the stream and every precaution used to protect the unwary.

The Index-Tribune's suggestion to Sonoma Valley to get in line with a big exhibition for the Fair in 1915 was not untimely as is evidenced by the extensive preparations being made by the different localities for the great event. The Board of Supervisors of Solano county is discussing the imposing of a special tax to make a monster display. In San Mateo county $50,000 is talked of as an appropriate sum to advertise that section during the Fair. Santa Clara, always a rival of imperial Sonoma, is asking every town in the county to prepare something for the magnificent aggregate it is to display. Fancy what Sonoma Valley could do in a Sonoma county exhibit. It could be the show feature of this section.

Assessor's Notice —TO— Property Owners.

All taxpayers are required by the Constitution to make and deliver to the County Assessor annually a statement under oath, setting forth specifically all the real and personal property owned by such person, or in his possession, or under his control, at 12 o'clock M. on the first Monday in March.

Note—The assessment of property throughout the State of California is made during the months of March, April, May and June, and the law requires that each individual property holder file a statement with the assessor or his deputy during these months.

Mortgages Not Assessable.

The Attorney General holds that "from this time forth all mortgages, no matter when made nor what their terms, are exempt from taxation."

The Constitutional Amendment which was adopted at the last general election, provided that a mortgage or deed of trust "shall not be considered property subject to taxation," and this operates as a decree by the people that the securities mentioned shall not hereafter constitute taxable property. Official duties in matters of taxation cannot be imposed or regulated by private contract."

"Nevertheless, the lien of taxes for mortgages assessed in 1910, before the constitution was amended, is not released, and parties now charged with taxes on the tax rolls must pay the same."

PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The Assessor must collect the taxes on all personal property when in his opinion said taxes are not a lien upon the real property sufficient to secure the payment of the taxes. The Assessor or his deputy must collect such taxes at the time of making the assessment.

State Poll and Road Poll Tax

Are due on demand from all persons liable to same, between the 1st Monday in March and the 1st Monday in August. The amount is $2 each. If not paid by the 1st Monday in August, $1 is added and the amount becomes $3 each.

All persons owning real estate that has heretofore been assessed to the wrong name, or those who have purchased real estate within the past year, are requested to appear with their deeds at the Assessor's office or to the deputies, during the months of March, April and May, and have the proper changes made.

Will those having fruit trees or vines kindly enumerate the same, giving number and age of each kind, so as to save time when the deputy assessor calls.

Any desired information relative to assessments will be furnished upon application at the county assessor's office, court house, Santa Rosa.

FRANK E. DOWD,
County Assessor.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

AND MAN STABS DR. BYRON.

Enraged Father Weilds Knife on Daughter's Betrayer.

Dr. A. E Byron formerly of this place, but lately a practiconer with offices in the Sherman & Clay building, Oakland, was fatally stabbed Tuesday night by J. B. Patrick, whose daughter Byron is alleged to have betrayed The stabbing affray took place in the Alhambra Apartments where the father found his daughter and Byron together He had attempted to get the police to aid him in getting his girl away from Byron's influence but as she was 22 years of age the authorities would not interfere and the desperate father ended by breaking into the apartments of the lovers and plunging a knife into Byron's heart. Ethel Patrick the girl in the case was formerly a patient of Dr. Byron and became madly infatuated with the physician who reciprocated her affection. They were frequently in each others company and when Mrs. Byron discovered the liaison, the doctor threatened to divorce her and marry Miss Patrick. Tuesday nights tragedy was the culmination of the illicit romance. Patrick, formerly a farmer of Chico and a reputable citizen, was never in trouble before and claims that the crime was not premeditated. His victim, whose lung and heart were torn by the knife thrust has been hovering between life and death, at Providence Hospital.

The mother of the girl believes Dr. Byron hypnotized her child. She made the following statement in regard to the tragedy "Dr, Byron was a handsome brilliant man. I guess not many girls could have resisted him. He had her hypnotized I am sure."

Steamer Ukiah Strikes Rock

The Northwestern Pacific ferryboat Ukiah narrowly escaped foundering Friday morning when, during a heavy fog, she struck the rocks off Angel Island, immediately below the lighthouse.

A huge rock, which penetrated the ship's bottom, making a rent fully three feet in diameter, became so firmly wedged in the ragged hole that when the vessel floated into deep water and proceeded to the Hunters Point drydock, but little water entered the vessel's hold.

It was only after the water had been pumped out of the dock and an inspection of the ship made that the seriousness of the accident was discovered. The officers of the company said yesterday that if the hole had not been closed in this accidental manner the Ukiah would have sunk a half hour after she struck.

The accident occurred at 5 o'clock in the morning, when a cargo of freight was being taken to Tiburon. There were no passengers on board.

SECOND FIRE ON BIGELOW PLACE

Barn and Tankhouse Go up in Flames and Reward is Increased

The second fire within a week started on the J. K. Bigelow place Monday afternoon and it was by a mere chance that the residence was not destroyed by the flames. As it was the loss was confined to the barn and tankhouse, many tons of hay going up in smoke.

At the time of the conflagration, Mr. Bigelow was closeted with District Attorney Lea at Santa Rosa to whom he was telling his suspicions of incendiarism in regard to the fire of last week. A telephone message brought word of the second conflagration, which was burning fiercely at the time and Mr. Bigelow hurried home to find his house divested of all its furnishings which had been removed by the fire-fighters while the flames threatened complete destruction. The fire was finally controlled and a valuable automobile was saved from the barn. Mr. Bigelow has the sympathy of the entire community but his insinuations of concerted action to get rid of him on the part of a certain element in the valley, has occasioned much adverse criticism as it is a reflection on the good citizenship of the community, whose law abiding people are neither criminal nor vindictive. It is the consension of opinion that Mr. Bigelow's suspicions should be probed and the reward which he has increased to $2500, will be doubled by the public if Mr. Bigelow is really being persecuted.

Capital is in no danger in Sonoma Valley whatever causes it may champion and the impression should not go abroad that such is the case.

The Gough---O'Brien Case

In a recent issue of your esteemed paper appeared a contribution commenting on the case brought by Mrs. Gough against her sisters, by which she seeks to get her just portion of her father's property.

This suit was not brought to disgrace anybody and if telling the truth reflects on the reputation of any of the defendants it is their misfortune. As to whether Mrs. Gough by her conduct in the past or by bringing this suit has defamed the memory of her father, she leaves for her neighbors and the Courts to determine, and she submits the issue as to whether or not she or the defendants have done more to bring disgrace upon their household and upon their father, to her neighbors and to the Peace Officers of Sonoma Township.

If there is no merit in her case why should one of the defendants conceal herself to avoid service of summons? The plaintiff is ready to go to trial any day but has not been able to do so because the officers are not able to serve papers on an interested party residing in this county.

The contributor also appeals to the five year statute of limitations, but it is well to remember that the Courts have decided that the five years do not commence to run until the undue influence, duress, etc. cease to operate.

Of course matters of law should be determined by the Courts and not by newspapers, and the only reason this reply is made is to correct any false impression that may have gained ground because of the previous article appearing in your paper.

Entertaining Royalty.

Nothing puts a bigger feather in the cap of a society hostess, says the London Saturday Journal, or at the same time causes her more anxious cares and thought rather than mere expenditure than the presence at one of her dinners or dances in the huge Mayfair mansion of a member of the royal family—most of all the king and queen. The entertaining of royalty is one of the most delicate triumphs the society woman, whether she be a duchess or merely a millionairess, can achieve. It has a code of etiquette all to itself—a code which must be rigidly observed or no hope is there of ever securing another visit from a royal guest of the reigning house. The number of titled and untitled guests bidden to meet the sovereign at, say, a dinner party is strictly limited and of course highly select. On one occasion $20,000 was spent by a hostess in entertaining a crowned head for a week end, while another example is that of a certain baronet who had a marble staircase put in his house solely because of an approaching visit from the late king.

A Remarkable Escape.

During the reign of terror in Paris one of the most remarkable escapes was that of M. de Chateaubrun. He was sent to execution with twenty other prisoners, but after the fifteenth head had fallen the guillotine got out of order and a workman was sent for to repair it. The six remaining victims were left standing in front of the machines with their hands tied behind them. A French crowd is very curious, and the people kept pressing forward to see the man arranging the guillotine. By degrees M. de Chateaubrun, who was to the rear of his companions, found himself in the front line of the spectators, then in the second and finally well behind those who had come to see his head cut off. Before the men could get the guillotine in working order night began to fall, and M. de Chateaubrun slipped away. When in the Champs Elysees he told a man that a wag had tied his hands and robbed him of his hat, and this simple individual set him free. A few days later M. de Chateaubrun escaped from France.

Due Precautions.

In a town in Georgia there was an old preacher whose knowledge of the world was not wide nor deep, but who conceived it to be a place where, if one should trust his fellow men, he should at the same time keep an eye on his own interests.

One hot day he pulled off his coat and preached a vigorous sermon under the pines in his shirt sleeves. At the close of the open air service one of his admirers approached him and said regretfully:

"I don't suppose you knew that the editor of one of the big New York Sunday papers was here when you pulled off your coat."

"I reckon I knew it well, for I'd been told of it," said the preacher calmly. "I don't believe he's as bad as he might be, and anyway I put my coat on the chair close by and had it right under my eye all the time."—Youth's Companion.

Moro Story of the Flood.

The legend of the flood as told by the Moros is as follows:

"When the forty days and nights of rain came No and his family got into a box. One pair of each sort of bird and beast also came in. Men who were busy with their ordinary occupations and did not enter the box were overtaken by the flood. Those who ran to the mountains became monkeys; those who ran to the water, fish. The Chinaman changed to a hornbill. A woman who was eating the fruit of a seaweed and would not stop was changed into a fish called a dugong, and her limbs can still be seen under its skin."

Mara's Voice.

Mme. Mara had a voice that extended from middle G to E in alt and was one of the most facile and flexible ever known. She delighted in the florid music of Hasse, Graun, Benda, Jommelli, Pergalese, Porpora, Sacchini and others of that school and with the utmost ease executed passages that are now consigned to solo instruments, such as the violin and flute. She held the stage from 1771 to 1802, with an occasional appearance after the latter date.

His Bedtime.

"When do you wind your watch," asked the man with the bulging brow—"morning or evening?"

"Generally in the morning," answered the man with the bulbous nose.

"I always wind mine just before I go to bed."

"Well—er—so do I."—Chicago Tribune.

What She Would Do.

"Johnnie, dear," said his mother, who was trying to inculcate a lesson in industry, "what do you suppose mamma would do for you if you should come to her some day and tell her that you loved your studies?" "Lick me for telling a falsehood," said dear little Johnnie with the frankness of youth.

A Quick Return Business.

"You said you were going into some business that would bring you quick returns," said a young fellow to his chum.

"I did," was the answer. "I am sending manuscripts to the magazines."

A Nice Bull.

An Irishman, quarreling with an Englishman, told him if he didn't hold his tongue he would "break his impenetrable head and let the brains out of his empty skull."

Berlin.

"Berle," from which Berlin has caught her name, means uncultivated land. Slavonian Wends, the earliest settlers on the sandy plain, could make but little out of the soil. The population in 1832 was only 250,000. Less than forty years later it was 800,000, and now it runs into 2,000,000. The man who gave to Berlin its present form was Frederick II., but Frederick the Great and the Great Elector started the noble hobby of beautifying the wonderful city.
